Judging:

1. All decisions of the judges will be final.
2. All teams should be ready for judging at noon on Saturday.
3. Only the entry to be judged is allowed in the container. Each entry will be judged on aroma, color, consistency, taste, and aftertaste.
 - a. Aroma: Should smell appetizing
 - b. Color: Should look appetizing
 - c. Consistency: Should be a smooth combination of meat and gravy
 - d. Taste: Should have full, rich flavoring and fresh zesty chili pepper taste. Blending of spices, how well they have permeated the meat
 - e. Aftertaste: Should leave a pleasant taste after the fact
4. Scoring ranges from a low of 1 to a high of 10 in increments of 1 point for each category. Any entry that is disqualified will receive a score of zero for all four categories from all judges at the table.
5. An entry can be disqualified by the event organizer only. An entry can be disqualified for any of the following reasons:
 - a. There is anything foreign other than competition chili in the container submitted for judging.
 - b. The entry is turned in after the officially designated time.
 - c. Gloves are not used while handling food products.
6. The event organizer will go to each cook site and gather the entries. Cups will be numbered. The numbers will be random so it will be a blind judge and only the event organizer will know which team corresponds with which number. Organizer announces the number of cups to be judged and checks for rule violations as stated above. The cups will be passed around to the judges for sampling. The judge will then score each entry aroma, color, consistency, taste, and aftertaste. The event organizer makes sure that all scores for the chili entries are recorded in the proper place. This procedure is repeated for all containers. After each cup has been scored the event organizer will return the cups to the designated area. The event organizer will then collect the judging slips. The points from each category will be combined and the team with the highest total points will win.
 - a. Tie Breaker
 - i. In the event that one or more teams finish with the same number points in their division, judges will taste those entries only and judge between those.
 - ii. For overall winner purposes, the original scores will be used to decide the overall winner.
7. People's Choice
 - a. For People's Choice, the general public will be voting for the best chili. The team with the most votes will be crowned People's Choice. Votes will be counted following the official judging of the competition chili. All winners will be announced once scores are totaled and votes have been counted for the People's Choice.
